| 786                        | Roanoke County         | If more jobs are created then more people will be in the area and the governments will have to deal with this population boom accordingly. Infrastructure improvements before the population increase.   |

| 902                        | Roanoke County         | Undoubtedly economic development. We're seeing a huge shift in the nature of the region's economy. Manufacturing/traditional service office jobs are dead, and the future is centered on a much more involved and flat technological development cycle (smart phone apps, cloud). The skill set of the sheet metal worker is not going to be helpful in that environment. |
| 905                        | Roanoke County         | Residents end up dictating development opportunities, squashing the owner's rights, residential owners fighting development, debilitates development.   |

| 919                        | Roanoke County         | I would say getting jobs, and higher pay for those jobs. Doctors are not being paid very much...nurses don't get paid anything.   |
| 923                        | Roanoke County         | Public transportation.  |
| 925                        | Roanoke County         | Transportation is the big one. Put in a railroad to Roanoke, put in more business opportunities, access to D.C., jobs, find jobs with benefits, air quality.  |
| 928                        | Roanoke County         | Keep out of people's way.   |
| 930                        | Roanoke County         | Work on things that people need such as better roads, etc. And less on the cultural part.   |
| 931                        | Roanoke County         | Bring jobs and enhancing all the things we've talked about without creating tax burden.   |
| 942                        | Roanoke County         | Deciding what its identity is - what it wants to be.  |
